ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, Sunday, Nov. 8.

A portion of the Third corps made a dash across Kelly's Ford last evening at about 4 o'clock and captured nearly all of the Second and Thirteenth North Carolina regiments, belonging to Gen. RAMSEY's brigade, and driving them back to their supports, held the position. There was but little loss on either side.

Two hundred and fifty prisoners were captured with their officers, and to-day were sent forward to Washington. Some of the prisoners say they will never go into the rebel army again.

Our troops are crossing the Rappahannock to-day without much opposition.

Annexed is an additional list of the men wounded at Rappahannock Station last evening, principally belonging to the Fifth corps.

ANOTHER REPORT.

At 2 o'clock this morning the following information was brought into the Chronicle office by an officer from the front:

A fight occurred yesterday afternoon between Gen. SEDGWICK's corps and the rebels on the Rappahannock, between Rappahannock Station and Kelly's Ford. The fight commenced about 2 o'clock. Our forces were victorious at every point, driving the rebels before them and capturing a battery and over twelve hundred prisoners. Our loss is slight, the casualties being only about seventy-five killed and two hundred and fifty wounded.

ADDITIONAL DETAILS.

E. A. PAUL sends to this Bureau the following particulars:

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, Sunday, Nov. 8.

Portions of the Fifth and Sixth corps, under the command of Maj.-Gen. SEDGWICK, last evening attacked the enemy in their stronghold, on the left bank of the Rappahannock, between Rappahannock Station and Beverly Ford, carrying the works successfully, capturing nearly all of the rebels defending them—from twelve hundred to fifteen hundred—four flags, with their arms and seven pieces of artillery.

The works consisted of the old earth fortification near the Railroad crossing, recently strengthened by the addition of railroad iron taken from the Orange and Alexandria Railroad, and another similar work half a mile or more westerly, on the river, connected by a curtain, rifle-pits, and all the usual contrivances resorted to for the defence of similar works.

At about midway between these forts the enemy had a bridge across the river and another bridge below the railroad in front, over which our troops had to pass, first having to drive the enemy's skirmishers and sharpshooters.

There were several natural rifle-pits filled with troops.

When it is considered that the main attack was not made until after sunset, so that the ground to be passed over could not be distinctly seen, and therefore the full character of the obstructions could not be ascertained, some idea of the hard task our troops had to perform may be imagined.

During the day the Sixth corps moved forward from the rear of Bealton Station, on the right of the railroad, to within one mile and a half of the enemy's works—the First division (Gen. RUSSELL) on the left, the Third division (Gen. TERRY) in the centre, and the Second division (Gen. HOWE) on the right.

The Fifth corps moved forward on the left of the track, and took position in a piece of woods a little more to the rear, but sending forward a picket brigade of picked skirmishers under Brig.-Gen. GERARD, who drove the enemy's skirmishers from the plateau on the left of the railroad to the river bank, in doing which the force suffered severely from a cross-fire of artillery and rifle shots from the fortifications nearest the railroad.

This force was composed of men from all the divisions of the Fifth corps, and they performed their work in a noble manner.

Having accomplished the special object of this movement, a portion of the troops were placed under the cover of the railroad embankment, while the remainder watched the river bank to prevent a flank movement.

At a little before sundown, Brig-Gen. RUSSELL, commanding the First division of the Sixth corps—the division belonging to Gen. WRIGHT—but who yesterday commanded the corps, moved his command on the right of the railroad and under a very heavy fire of artillery and infantry, carried the natural rifle-pits.

Just as night had shrouded the heavens in darkness, a charge was made by the Fifth Wisconsin and Sixth Maine volunteer infantry upon the fortifications near the railroad, supported in the movement by the One Hundred and Nineteenth Pennsylvania and Forty-ninth Pennsylvania.

These regiments make up the Third brigade of the First division, commanded as follows at this time: The division by Col. ELHACKER, of the One Hundred and Nineteenth Pennsylvania volunteers; Fifth Wisconsin, Col. ALLEN; Forty-ninth Pennsylvania, Lieut.-Col. HULING; One Hundred and Nineteenth Pennsylvania, Lieut.-Col. CLARK; Sixth Maine, Lieut.-Col. HARRIS.

Having carried the fortification, after a brief but severe struggle, the Fifth Wisconsin and Sixth Maine dashed forward to the bridge, completely cutting off the whole rebel force on the left bank of the river. General SHALER's brigade, of the First division, came up on the right, and at an opportune moment carried the works there, when the whole rebel force threw down their muskets and surrendered. This force is composed of the Eighty-second Pennsylvania, Sixty-fifth New-York, Sixty-seventh New-York, One Hundred and Twenty-second New-York and Twenty-third Pennsylvania.

While all who participated in this affair, I believe, without exception, did well, special mention should be made of the Fifth Wisconsin and Sixth Maine. The troops captured are HOKE's North Carolina brigade, commanded by Col. GODWIN; HAYES' Louisiana brigade, commanded by Col. PENN—both of whom are prisoners—and the Louisiana Guard battery, all belonging to EWELL's corps.

Among the wounded are:
Lieut. Farwell, Fifth Wisconsin.
Capt. Hodgkins, 119th Pennsylvania.
Lieut.-Col. Hanks, 6th Maine.
Capt. Walker, 5th Wisconsin—dangerously.
Capt. Finlay, 6th Wisconsin—severely.
Lieut. Stewart, Adjutant 49th Penn.—slightly.
Col. Harris, 6th Maine—side.
Lieut. E. A. Clark, 6th Maine—thigh.
Capt. Roberts, 6th Maine.
Capt. Furlong, 6th Maine—mortally.
Lieut. Chandler, 6th Maine.

Capt. Ordway, 5th Wisconsin—killed.
Lieut. Hutchinson, 5th Wisconsin—wounded.
Maj. Wheeler, 5th Wisconsin—wounded.
Lieut. Russell, Aid to Gen. Russell—wounded.

The Forty-ninth Pennsylvania, which was in the supporting brigade, lost 3 killed, 14 wounded, and 3 missing.

Lieut.-Col. Huling had his horse killed.

The horse of Maj. Miles, 49th Pennsylvania, was struck by a ball.

Capt. Hodgen, 119th Pennsylvania, was wounded in four places.

Thos. Mahoney, 6th Maine—wounded in hand.

Capt. Burnham, 6th Maine—slightly.
W. N. Gowler, 6th Maine.
Lieut. Williams, 6th Maine.
Daniel Bagley, 6th Maine.
Gen. Allen, 121st New-York—slightly.
Sergt. A. F. Lovergist, 6th Maine.
S. P. Smith, Co. I, 10th Massachusetts.
Peter Boot, Co. B. 122d New York.
Sergt. J. F. Spurlock, Co. B. 122d New-York.
M. Cooney, Co. B. 122d N. Y.—foot amputated.
J. Ungum, 10th Massachusetts.
Lieut. Gilbert—both feet.

The Second brigade, First division, Sixth corps, commanded by Col. UPTON, also participated actively in the fight on the right, and captured two stands of colors and a large number of prisoners. This brigade is composed of the Ninety-fifth Pennsylvania, Col. CARROLL, Ninety-sixth Pennsylvania, One Hundred and Twenty-first New-York, Fifth Maine, Col. EDWARDS.

Several of the rebel officers in our hands frankly admit that they considered their position impregnable, and speak in the highest terms of the bravery and dash shown by our troops.

It should be stated that the taking of the enemy's works was done upon the immediate request of Gen. RUSSELL.

Our loss in killed, wounded and missing will not exceed four hundred. The enemy lost comparatively few in killed and wounded, as they were well protected and their position was covered, according to prisoners' accounts, by sixteen guns located on the opposite side of the river.

This morning the wounded were taken to Warrenton Junction and from thence sent forward to Washington. The prisoners were also mustered and marched off in the same direction.

LATEST REPORTS FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Sunday, Nov. 8—9 P. M.

The latest news from the front is that LEE's whole line is in rapid retreat, and is principally hurrying across the river at Kelly's Ford, and our whole line is advancing quite as fast. Washington will be sadly disappointed if LEE does not get soundly thrashed to-morrow, in detail if not in gross.

DISPATCHES TO THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sunday, Nov. 8.

It appears from information received here to-night, that yesterday morning the Fifth and Sixth army corps under the command of Maj.-Gen. SEDGWICK, advanced to Rappahannock Station, they having the right wing of the army. The First, Second and Third army corps, forming the left wing, under Maj.-Gen. FRENCH, proceeded to Kelly's Ford.

When the right wing reached the Rappahannock, the enemy were found to be in considerable force, holding this side of the river. The rebel batteries, earthworks and redoubts, crowned the banks on each side of the Rappahannock.

Gen. SEDGWICK at once advanced and stormed them with great gallantry and impetuosity, causing much slaughter and taking a large number of prisoners.

When Gen. FRENCH reached Kelly's Ford, about six miles below Rappahannock Station, the enemy threw across an entire division to support their picket line on this side. Gen. FRENCH hastily took a position so as to bring his artillery to bear upon them, and proceeded to shell them with marked effect, not only killing a large number, but throwing them into utter confusion, scattering them wildly and taking many prisoners.

Gen. FRENCH, following up his advantage, immediately threw the First division of the Third corps, commanded by Gen. BIRNEY, across the river, which ended his operations for the day.

This morning he crossed the river with the remainder of his command. Gen. SEDGWICK had previously crossed it, and at 9 o'clock this morning the two wings had formed a junction, and held both banks of the river.

The enemy, after their defeat in these two engagements, were so hotly pursued by our victorious forces, that they threw themselves into the river in their efforts to escape, where some were drowned and many were killed by our infantry.

All the artillery the rebels had on this side was captured. It is reported to be seven guns. The whole camp equipage undoubtedly fell into our hands, as they were compelled to leave it in their hasty retreat.

Gen. BUFORD's cavalry crossed at Sulphur Springs, to cover the right flank, several miles above Rappahannock Station; and Gens. GREGG and KILPATRICK crossed below Kelly's Ford, to cover the left flank. No definite information of their operations had been received up to noon to-day.

The enemy, after crossing the Rappahannock under cover of the night, moved in the direction of Culpepper, and the advance of our forces, supposed to be cavalry, reached Brandy Station early to-day.

This morning our whole line advanced, and Gen. ——— no doubt pressed rapidly forward after the retreating foe.

The entire number of prisoners taken by both SEDGWICK and FRENCH is now believed to be 1,826. Orders were sent to Col. DEVEREAUX, at Alexandria, to provide for that number. The prisoners are composed principally of North Carolina and Louisiana troops. This afternoon the 3 o'clock train commenced bringing the prisoners into Alexandria.

The number taken by SEDGWICK was from 1,200 to 1,400. The remainder were taken by FRENCH.

A gentleman who was present with the army says it was a novel sight to see all SEDGWICK's prisoners in a crowd—the largest lot ever captured by our forces on the Virginia side—and they were guarded by cavalry to prevent straggling or escape.

FRENCH's prisoners were also gathered in one body and similarly guarded.

Our total loss is reported to be 400 in killed and wounded, but no prisoners.

Our wounded were carried to Warrenton Junction, and tenderly cared for. From thence they were sent to Alexandria this afternoon.

THE BATTLE OF WAUHATCHIE.

From Our Special Correspondent.

CHATTANOOGA, Sunday, Nov. 1, 1863.

Gen. GEARY's (Second) division, Twelfth army corps, under command of Maj.-Gen. HOOKER, fought the battle of Wauhatchie, Tenn., in Lookout Creek Valley, early on the morning of the 29th of October, 1863. Three brigades of Hood's division, LONGSTREET's corps, sought to surprise and capture Gen. GEARY's advance, which was holding the intersection of the Wauhatchie and Brown's Ferry Road with the Kelly's Ferry Road.

The attack was made with great vigor at half an hour after midnight upon Gen. GEARY's front and his right flank. The fight raged furiously for three and a half hours, when the enemy was routed, leaving many of their dead and wounded in our hands. Our ammunition was nearly exhausted at this momentous juncture, and the General had just determined to use the bayonet.

The regiments which sustained the actual fighting were the One Hundred and Thirty-seventh New-York, of Gen. GREENE's brigade, and the One Hundred and Ninth and One Hundred and Eleventh Pennsylvania, of Col. COBHAM's brigade, together with two sections of KNAP's Pennsylvania battery, all commanded by Gen. GEARY in person. The Seventy-eighth and One Hundred and Forty-ninth New-York were in line on the extreme right, but were not assailed. The Twenty-ninth Pennsylvania had considerable picket skirmishing. Other portions of the command were on important duty elsewhere.

Maj. REYNOLDS, Chief of Artillery, Twelfth corps, superintended the action of the battery, which suffered severely, losing nearly all its gunners, and 37 of its horses out of 48. They expended 224 rounds. The enemy charged upon them three times—each time repulsed with much loss.

The "White Star division" maintained its time-honored reputation in this severe fight, as if conscious that the result would determine their standing for good or bad in the Army of the Cumberland. They feel proud of their commander, Gen. HOOKER, to whom they have ever been unusually attached. To him is due the credit of this movement, whose vital importance will be hereafter developed.

Gen. GEARY's son, Lieut. EDWARD R. GEARY, of KNAP's battery, a brave youth and an officer of rare promise, was killed at one of his guns, by a shot through the brain. There is not a soldier in the division but feels a pang of regret at his "early taking off."

The force of the enemy was far superior to our own. Prisoners were taken from HAMPTON's legion, Palmetto sharpshooters, and the First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth and Seventh South Carolina regiments.

The division and Third brigade flags were shot from their staffs. During the engagement Gen. GEARY was ubiquitous. The enemy were effectually routed at 3½ o'clock in the morning.

A portion of one rebel regiment threw down its arms and refused to advance under the fire we were pouring into them.

They were astonished to discover they were fighting a portion of the Army of the Potomac, whom they had met, and whose prowess they had felt on other fields. The arms captured from the rebels were Springfield or Enfield rifles.

Both Gen. THOMAS and Gen. HOOKER issued orders congratulatory upon the result of this engagement. The following are the orders, which have had a very inspiring effect upon the troops:

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF CUMBERLAND, CHATTANOOGA, Oct. 30, 1863.

GENERAL: I most heartily congratulate you and the troops under your command at the brilliant success you gained over your old adversary, LONGSTREET, on the night of the 28th inst. The bayonet charge of HOWARD's troops, made up the sides of a steep and difficult hill, over 200 feet high, completely routing and driving the enemy from his barricades on its top, and the repulse by GEARY's division, of greatly superior numbers, who attempted to surprise him, will rank among the most distinguished feats of arms of this war. Very respectfully your obedient servant,

GEO. H. THOMAS, Major-General U. S. V., Commanding.

To which Gen. HOOKER added, in promulgating the above to his command:

HEADQUARTERS ELEVENTH AND TWELFTH CORPS, ARMY CUMBERLAND, CAMP IN LOOKOUT VALLEY, Sunday, Nov. 1, 1863.

GENERAL ORDER No. —.—It is with extreme pleasure that the Major-General Commanding communicates to the troops comprising the Eleventh corps and to the Second division of the Twelfth corps the subjoined letter, in appreciation of their distinguished services on the night of the 28th inst. He hopes that it will inspire as much satisfaction in the hearts of his officers and men as it has in his own, and that this handsome tribute to our good conduct from our brave and devoted commander may stimulate us to renewed efforts to secure his good opinion, while in so doing he will try to emulate our companions in courage and valor.

By command of Major-Gen. HOOKER.

Prisoners were taken from nearly all the regiments in LONGSTREET's corps in BRAGG's army.

Continued Bombardment of Fort Sumter—The Work Surely Unable to Hold Out Much Longer—Accuracy and Rapidity of the Firing—The Rebel Flag Shot Away Seven Times in Eight Days—A Nocturnal Reconnoissance—Deserter's Story—Clearing the Woods of Rebels—A Model Camp.

From Our Own Correspondent.

MORRIS ISLAND, S. C., Wednesday, Nov. 4, 1863.

The bombardment of Sumter is still progressing, although the fire is not so rapid as it was during some days of last week. The old fabric is gradually dropping away, revealing in the process portions of shattered casemates and other internal structure, which in turn disappear from view. The handful of powder which the pitiful remnant of a garrison flash at sundown each night, to assure the people of Charleston that "all is well," is but the symbol of Sumter's exhausted energy. While it has been my fortune to witness the downfall of that massive work, I frankly admit the spectacle would have yielded an increase of pleasure had not the thought occurred that with its destruction perished the monument of valor and patriotism exhibited by a few noble men in the early stage of the rebellion.

THE FIRE

from the Union guns cannot be excelled in accuracy—consequently, effectiveness. I have sat hour after hour watching the projectiles strike against some selected portion of the mass, and have been astonished at the number of successful shots made within a given length of time. Out of seventy-four successive shots discharged from one battery, sixty took effect at the desired point. The same compliment can be extended to the gunners on the monitors. They have done immense execution, especially since the vessels have taken an advanced position. A spontaneous cheer arose from a group of officers and men at Cummings' Point day before yesterday at seeing six solid shots fall almost simultaneously among a party of four rebels while endeavoring to raise the flagstaff which had been knocked away an hour previous. Four of the shots were from the land batteries and two from the monitors. It is fair to predict that the men did not escape injury, as the attempt to raise the flag was not renewed till early the next morning. Since then the flag has been again shot away, making a number of seven times within the past eight days. Whatever damage the enemy may have inflicted upon us from Wagner and Gregg, he is getting pay in his own coin from Strong and Putnam—the names by which these forts are now known—besides something in the way of interest from Battery Chatfield, situated between the two.

THE ENEMY'S FIRE

has been irregular and feeble throughout the past week. On Monday, the day we resumed an active bombardment, he replied with considerable determination, but his vim died out with the close of the day. For two days only one shot was fired at Wagner. It is not thought improbable that the enemy may have pointed his guns on James Island toward the channel, so as to be in readiness for the iron-clads should they gain the inner harbor. It would not be surprising also if he was short of ammunition, for we are aware he expended tons to very little purpose when we were engaged remodeling and constructing forts on the north end of this island. The Sullivan's Island batteries are doubtless as formidable as any that the enemy possesses. Besides the old works, including Moultrie, Bee and Beauregard, a water battery in an incipient state of construction has been lately observed about a mile east of the Moultrie House. The fact that the iron-clads regard it with little attention is evidence they are not apprehensive of any serious resistance from that quarter.

A BOLD FEAT—SUMTER SCALED.

Monday night one of the boldest feats of the siege was performed by Capt. FERRIS of the Enfans Perdu regiment. Accompanied by two others, who acted as rowers, the Captain took a boat and passed up Light-house Creek to the Bay, and then cautiously felt his way to Sumter. He reached the débris unperceived by those above, and was in the act of climbing to a more elevated point when some bricks, used as a purchase for his feet, gave way, causing a noise which alarmed the sentinel, who aroused the entire garrison. The Captain comprehended his imminent position and succeeded in returning to his boat. In pushing off the rebels were enabled to judge of his whereabouts from the sound of the oars, and fifty of them discharged their pieces at him, but the bullets fell harmlessly into the water. Himself and assistants arrived safely at Cummings' Point.

VALUABLE INFORMATION

A rebel who recently deserted from Sumter, states that the place is occupied during the day by the small force of twenty-five men. At 9 o'clock at night the force is increased to five hundred, who remain till 4 o'clock the next morning, and then retire with the exception of twenty-five, who relieve those on duty the preceding day. On one occasion last week, a single shot killed and wounded eleven out of the twenty-five. Every shot that is aimed at the fort creates the wildest consternation. The men fly hither and thither, and often in their extreme haste to seek cover, become confused and take to the most hazardous nooks for safety. The people of Charleston, having recovered somewhat from the fright occasioned by the first administering of Greek fire, were fearfully alarmed at the three succeeding shells thrown into the city from Fort Putnam on the 26th ult. The probable fate of the city is being discussed with great earnestness, and numerous families have their goods and chattles packed for a dire emergency. The deserter swam from Sumter to Putnam. Upon arriving, he was immediately taken in charge by the officer of the night and conducted to the presence of the commanding General. The men were not allowed to converse with him, and, indeed, so carefully has he been guarded by an officer specially appointed for the duty, that his advent among us is known to but few.

A GUNBOAT RECONNOISSANCE

up Folly River was successfully accomplished last Saturday. The object of the expedition was to scatter a force of rebels that had been seen lurking in the woods on the west bank. For that purpose the gunboat Marblehead and the mortar-schooner C. P. Williams, both under the command of Capt. BAULCH, of the Pawnee, left Stono River in the morning, and proceeded on their way up the Folly. When about two miles from the Stono, both vessels opened fire and continued to shell the woods for a distance of two miles. A force of rebel cavalry and some infantry were burned out and made to move back in double quick. After firing 173 shots, the vessels returned to their former anchorage. Col. SERRELL, of the Volunteer Engineers, accompanied the expedition, and took notes of the proceedings. The enemy did not return the fire. By referring to the map it will be observed that Folly River follows the west shore of Folly Island, hence it became a matter of some importance to rid the east shore of James Island of rebels. We have unmistakable evidence that the rebels have concentrated a large body of troops on the south end of James Island, in anticipation, no doubt, of a movement of our forces in that direction. If they succeed in divining the plans of Gen. GILLMORE, they can do more than his own officers receive credit for.

A MODEL CAMP.

The other day I had the pleasure of accompanying a party, of whom Fleet-Capt. EMMONS and Fleet-Paymaster BRADFORD formed two, to the camp of the United States Marines. To express myself delighted with what I saw, would not be doing justice to my feelings. The site selected for the camp was in itself sufficient to prepossess one in favor of the good taste and order of the corps and when I came to mark the regularity with which the streets were laid out, and the strict adherence to military rule which governed the placing of the tents, and the perfect neatness that was everywhere observable, I could not refrain from congratulating Col. REYNOLDS upon his model camp. Each tent is raised upon a square platform of earth, which is covered all round with green sods, in addition to which lines of shrubbery are fixed so as to encircle the tents and form avenues. The kitchens are separated from the main body of the camp, but present the same characteristics of neatness. The party received the kindest hospitality from Col. REYNOLDS, and other officers of the command. The command consists of a battalion, and has been in the Department three months. Maj. ZEDLIN arrived with it, but was obliged to go North, after being here three or four weeks, in consequence of sickness. Col. REYNOLDS is advanced in years, and although he has been in the service most of his life, and thereby has obtained a first-class military knowledge, it would seem that the authorities at Washington should consider the propriety of assigning him to a larger command, or allow him to occupy a position more suitable to his years and experience. There are Captains in the battalion who are fully competent to assume the chief control.

A WORD TO SUTLERS.

It would be well for those individuals who purpose to come here in the capacity of sutlers to be very careful in providing themselves with the necessary permits before leaving port. They may also take heed how they fix upon the selling prices of their goods when once here, for many a crafty sutler has come out the worst for his bargain by his mercenary extortions in trade. If a person comes here and attempts to evade the laws of trade, he will be dealt with in the most summary manner. Provost-Marshal Gen. HALL attends to all matters of that nature and the sutlers themselves will testify he is not backward in the performance of his duties. WHIT.

Arrival of the Steamer Thorn.

The steamer Thorn, Capt. MORGAN, from Stono Inlet 4th inst., in ballast to the Navy Agent, arrived last evening. She passed Charleston on the 4th inst. at 5 P. M. There was heavy firing from Morris Island and two monitors, mostly directed toward Fort Sumter. On the 5th inst., forty miles northeast of Frying Pan Shoals, was boarded by the United States gunboat Hongua, who reported having chased the day before, in company with the United States steamer Keystone State, a blockade runner trying to get into Wilmington. She was struck by two shots from the Hongua. The Keystone State was still in chase of her.

[This steamer is probably the Margaret and Jessie, captured by the Fulton.]

MONDAY, Nov. 9—A. M.

The market for Money through the past week was seriously disturbed by the temporary disproportion of Legal Tender held at Bank and in the Treasury. This was brought about by the very large subscriptions at the close of the previous week to the Popular Loan. The Money required on this account raised the balances in the Treasury Office on Monday to the high figure of $40,938,048, and reduced the Legal Tender U. S. Notes at Bank to $11,500,000. The Government gave prompt instructions, with ample discretionary authority, to the Assistant Treasurer to relieve this state of things, as far as practicable, by receiving the Ten-Day Certificates of Deposit on the Treasury in place of Legal Tender Notes, and to pay off in the latter such further amount of these Certificates held by the Banks as they might require to make their ordinary business, as well as their payments for the Loan, perfectly easy. Accordingly, of the Certificates of Deposit held in the country, $5,000,000 have been paid off, and of those held by the City Associated Banks, $17,000,000 have been paid, with notice to the Banks that they could draw as much more, without the usual ten days' delay. Whether this will be necessary or not a few days' working of the exchanges and equalizations through the Clearing-house on the present basis of $22,500,000 Legal Tender, will determine. To facilitate the payments for the Popular Loan in another direction, the Treasurer of the United States at Washington has been directed to pay off, until further notice, all the twelve months' Certificates of Indebtedness maturing between the present date and 3d of March next, on presentation. Should these arrangements temporarily reduce the Legal Tender Notes held in the Treasury below a comfortably working balance, the Secretary has authority, under the Acts of Congress of July 11, 1862, and March 3, 1863, to employ any portion of fifty millions Legal Tender Notes in substitution of the Deposits withdrawn to meet the emergencies of the Money market. The line of Deposits with the Government, which recently stood at its full limit of one hundred millions, is now probably reduced, at all points, in the aggregate, to about $70,000,000.

The price of Gold and rates of Exchange through the week varied less than usual of late, and the former closed on Saturday night at 146¼, against 146¼ the week before. Bills on London 161¼@162¼ ₱ cent. It was rumored late on Saturday night that some considerable private sales of Gold were pressed at 145 ₱ cent. We have no present means of verifying such a rumor. The price was kept up in part through the week, against the heavy payments in Gold from the Treasury for the 1st November interest and against a close Money 7 ₱ cent. market, by certain large operations in Exchange, made upon London and Paris, by a leading Banking firm, for Gold, and at rates relatively below the shipping point. The surmise on the Street was that this Gold was for the use of the French army in Mexico, but it is more likely that this requisition will be answered from San Francisco by several large shipments to the Isthmus by the California correspondents of the ROTHSCHILDS, the Gold being delivered on board of the French transports at Aspinwall for Vera Cruz, and the Bills against it made at San Francisco, partly on New-York, to be paid here in Gold, and the remainder on London.

The Stock Market, like the price of Gold, has displayed much firmness as against the full price of Money on the best class of collateral, and the difficulty of borrowing on the miscellaneous Shares, actively dealt in at the Exchange. Of the latter, Cumberland, Central American Transit, Delaware and Hudson, American Coal and Pennsylvania Coal have materially advanced, while Pacific Mail and several of the Western Roads show a decline. Of the New-York roads, Central leaves off as high as on Saturday week; Erie and Hudson are 1½ ₱ cent. lower, and Harlem, as usual of late in all money markets, fluctuated wildly. The Government Stocks of the 1861 issue gave way on one or two of the tightest days for Money, but recovered at the close. Of the Popular Loan the sales directly at the Treasury Office and by the Sub-Loan Agents were as follows, according to the receipts of the Money in payment at the Treasury here. Other sales were accounted for at Washington.

The price of Gold, which fell to 147¼ late on Friday, has ruled steady to-day at about this figure until late on Saturday, when it fell to 146¼. Exchange on London since the sailing of the steamers in the forenoon, is quoted 162 @162¼ ₱ cent. for Bankers' bills on London. The export demand for Gold for the mail steamers amounted to only $354,060; and for the whole week the shipments amount to $612,128.

The demand for Money from the Brokers continued active at 7 ₱ cent. ₱ annum. The Banks gained heavily in Legal Tender from Friday morning. They held on the report to the Clearing House Saturday A. M., $19,500,000, and from the additional payments made at the Treasury Office on the Certificates of Deposit held at Bank—the 10 days' notice being waived by the Assistant Treasurer—the probability is that they now hold about $22,500,000 Legal Tender, as against the minimum of $11,500,000 on Monday last.

The contest between the Bull and Bear interest on the Stock Exchange has been unusually animated. The short sales of the Railway stocks a day or two ago have not thus far resulted in profit to the sellers. Their calculations upon increased embarassment in the Money market have not been realized, but the party operating in this direction is unquestionably an influential and wealthy one, and under their operations on Saturday the market was not suffered to derive any decided advantage from the improved strength of the Banks as money lenders. At 4 o'clock the following prices were made in comparison with Friday night:

The Treasury office on Saturday disbursed $3,549,764 in excess of all receipts. The Banks gained nearly the whole of this sum in Legal Tender upon the Certificates of Deposit which they presented for payment on notice from the Assistant Treasurer that he would waive the ten days' notice agreed upon on the face of the Certificates. The Pittsburgh Gazette has the following, reference to the Government Directors in the Great Pacific Railway Company, organized in New-York on the 29th ult. We learn that these appointments by the President of the United States afford much satisfaction to the other Directors of the Company:

"The appointment by the President of SPRINGER HARBAUGH, of this city, and J. T. CARTER, of Illinois, as the two Government Directors of the Pacific Railroad, was announced yesterday by telegraph. No selection could have been more judicious, and none could have given greater satisfaction in this community, where he has been so long and so favorably known, than that of Mr. HARBAUGH. If the President has found in his Illinois colleague a man of equal intelligence, honor, probity and well-matured business capacity, as he has found in Mr. HARBAUGH, he has indeed been fortunate. It is a position of vast responsibility, requiring the exercise of great firmness, clear and comprehensive judgment, and far-seeing sagacity."

England must import quite largely this year; still prices there remain comparatively low. With 20,000 bales of this year's growth to export, prices here must be in a measure governed by the rates abroad."

HIDES—Receipts have been liberal and sales moderate this week. The movements in the principal kinds, Messrs. H. D. HULL & Co. notice thus: Dry Hides—During the early part of the week the market continued quiet, but toward the close, importers manifesting more desire to realize on their stocks and a disposition to meet the views of buyers, a moderate activity sprang up, and a fair amount of business has since been done. There is rather more inquiry from the trade than during the past two weeks, though most houses, being well supplied by their large purchases during September and the early part of last month, hold aloof from the market. The arrivals during the latter part of the week have been large, considerably increasing the available supply of Sole Leather Hides. Prices are without quotable change. Wet Salted Hides—For Domestic Slaughters a fair demand prevails, but the disparity in the views of buyers and sellers retards operation. The supply is not large, but is, for the most part, firmly held at about outside figures. We note the arrival, this week, of 2,000 Rio Grande, ex. Storm Bird, and about 3,000 California, ex. Gaspee. Dry Salted Hides—The demand for this description is only moderate. For Upper Leather stock there is a fair inquiry, at rates somewhat below the views of the holders of the limited supply in the market. We have no sales to report from first hands. Calcutta Hides.—We have to report the arrival of the Continental and Wampoa, the former bringing 240 bales Buffalo and 62 bales Cow, and the latter 238 bales Buffalo and 30 bales Cow, of which 100 of the Buffaloes and all the Cows were sold before arrival. We have no recent sales to report, of either description, from first hands. Week's receipts have been 54,625 Hides, and 573 bales. Sales have been 54,625 Hides, including 4,800 dry Buenos Ayres, 24½ lbs., 28½c., cash, usual selection; 4,200 dry Buenos Ayres, to arrive, 22 lbs., 28½c., cash, usual selection; 2,880 dry Montevideo, 22 lbs., 28½c., cash, usual selection; 6,000 dry Orinoco, 21 lbs., private terms; 1,050 dry Central America, 20 lbs., private terms; 880 dry Rio Hache, 19 lbs., private terms; 2,500 dry salted Chili, 32 lbs., 23c., cash, usual selection; 1,500 City and Country Slaughters, 70 lbs., 11c.@11½c. cash; 1,000 Washington Slaughters, 75 lbs., 11½c., cash. LEATHER—The week's business in this line, Messrs. We reduce our figures full ½c. ₱ lb. for all descriptions of light and common leather. Prime grades, of heavy average, continue to realize very nearly former prices. About 2,000 sides over-weights have been purchased for shipment to Liverpool. Oak Sole—Inquiry only moderate. Rates are unchanged, but hardly so firm as heretofore. Receipts and sales of about equal extent. Stock in dealers' hands quite limited in amount. Week's receipts of Sole Leather about 48,000 sides."

NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE REBELLION.

The long-expected advance of the Army of the Potomac to offer battle to Gen. Lee, after delays respecting its supplies, was finally made on Saturday, and with gratifying success. The commands of Maj.-Gens. Sedgwick and French, at 2 o'clock on that day, had pressed forward to the banks of the Rappahannock, the first to the railroad crossing, and the other to Kelly's Ford, driving the enemy before them, carrying the redoubts on this side of the river, capturing nearly 2,000 prisoners and a battery of seven guns. The enemy attempted to throw an entire division across the river at Kelly's Ford, but the movement was checked by Gen. French, who by a well-directed artillery fire shattered the rebel ranks and caused them to retreat in utter confusion. Our men fought splendidly, making most impetuous and gallant charges, and our total loss will not exceed 400 in killed and wounded. At the latest advices our forces were across the Rappahannock.

Very interesting items of news from Gen. Grant's department have come to hand through Southern sources. An Atlanta, Georgia, dispatch, dated last Wednesday says, that during the preceding 48 hours, the Yankees had gained such important advantages, which, unless at once counteracted, would put beyond question Gen. Grant's ability to subsist his entire army at Chattanooga. Our forces maintain possession of Raccoon Valley, having been heavily reinforced, and our cavalry were making most annoying and disastrous raids in Madison and Huntsville Counties. On Saturday the rebels threw some shells from the summit of Lookout Mountain, but failed to do any damage. Our correspondent sends us an interesting account of the recent engagement at Wauhatchie, in which the Eleventh and Twelfth army corps so greatly distinguished themselves.

The arrival of the steamship Fulton at this port yesterday gives us advices from Charleston Bar to the 4th inst. The report of the surrender of Fort Sumter, brought to Philadelphia by the Salvor on Saturday last, is not confirmed. Our correspondence informs us that the bombardment was in progress by both the land and naval forces, and was marked with great vigor and effectiveness. Before our destructive fire the walls of the fort were disappearing fast, and it was scarcely probable that the twenty-five men who are said to form the day garrison of the ruin, would find the slightest shelter after a few more days' hammering. The enemy's colors had been shot away seven times within eight days, and on one occasion, at least, the flag could not have been replaced without loss of life. The rebels fail to reply to our fire, and have probably become convinced that the annihilation of Fort Sumter is simply a question of time, and the further expenditure of ammunition on their part would be simply an inexcusable waste. When Sumter is out of the way a strong effort will no doubt be made by the iron-clads to enter the harbor, and of course desperate resistance is to be expected from the defences on James and Sullivan's Islands.

By the arrival of the steamship Daniel Webster, from New-Orleans, we learn of the departure from that port, on the 27th ult., of the expedition which had been for many weeks in course of preparation under Maj.-Gen. Dana's direction. The expedition, composed of a considerable body of troops and 17 steam transports, convoyed by three gunboats, left the Southwest Pass on the 27th ult. Maj.-Gen. Banks commanded in person. The destination of the fleet was not made public, and let us hope that the first knowledge we have will come under the announcement that it has successfully done its work. If so we can well afford to be incurious.

Mr. Seward has authorized the announcement that the six rams building at Nantes and Bordeaux, France, for the rebels, will not be permitted to leave port. The French Government takes this course in response to a remonstrance of Minister Dayton.

From Key West our correspondent sends us interesting particulars of the movements of the East Gulf Blockading Squadron and the capture of two prizes—one the English steamer Mat, laden with cotton, and the other the schooner J. H. Champlin, with a similar cargo. There had been a skirmish at Tampa Bay between a party of sailors from the steamer Tahoma and Adela, who went ashore to burn two vessels that were fitting out for blockade running, and a rebel cavalry force, in which we lost three killed and four prisoners. The sailors succeeded in accomplishing their object and defeated the enemy. Capt. Newcome, of the steamer Tioga, died suddenly at sea on the 25th inst., in an epileptic fit, and was buried at Key West, and the Paymaster of the De Soto had fallen a victim to yellow fever, contracted while in the Mississippi River. There was no sickness at Key West.

The United States steamer Fulton reached this port yesterday morning, having in tow as a prize the steamship Margaret and Jessie, from Nassau for Wilmington, N. C. The prize was captured on the 5th inst., forty miles south of Frying Pan Shoals, after a fourteen hours' chase. She is built of iron, is 800 tons burden, seven years old, has two engines of 500-horse power, and was built in Glasgow. She had a cargo of silks, dry goods, clothing, &c., valued at $500,000, but most of it was thrown overboard during the chase. The number of passengers and crew was about 100, all of whom are now in Eldridge-street Jail.

GENERAL NEWS.

The Money market kept active, at 7 ₩ cent., on Saturday. At the close of the day the Banks held $22,500,000 in Legal Tender, against $16,500,000 Friday, and $11,500,000 on Monday. Gold, 146½. Stocks dull at the close.

Business in Breadstuffs on Saturday was less animated; prices of Flour and Wheat declined slightly; Corn advanced a shade; Oats closed heavily. Pork and Lard were in less request and less buoyant in price. Beef was more sought after. Whisky was in good demand, as were also Hay, Hops, Laths, Lime, Cassia, Tallow, Wool, Leather, and the principal kinds of Groceries at full rates. Cotton was moderately inquired for and was firm Fish, Hemp, Seeds, and Skins attracted less attention. The freight market was quiet, with 663 vessels of all classes in port.

The Administration and the War.

After the elections of last Fall had gone against the Administration, the Copperhead organs in this City, as well as elsewhere, were in the habit of informing the President that if he were a Prime Minister of England he would, with a popular majority against him, be compelled to vacate his seat in favor of somebody who would bring the policy of the Government into complete accordance with the national will, as expressed at the polls. As, however, he was not a Prime Minister in England, and as the Constitution made him sure of his seat for at least four years, no matter what the country might think of his doing, he was requested to do the next best thing to resigning, by giving up his own opinions and adopting those of the Opposition. He was told that it was his duty, therefore, morally, though not legally, to undo all that he had done that was objectionable in Democratic eyes—to cancel the Emancipation proclamation, to put a stop to the enlistment of negroes, to nullify the Confiscation act, and to appoint Gen. McClellan General-in-Chief with plenary powers. Failing this, Mr. James Brooks released the army from service and the public from its allegiance; and the "lecturers" who, in those halcyon days, diffused "political information" from the Democratic headquarters, gave everybody leave to do whatever seemed right in his own eyes.

We did not concur in this view of the case then, because we believed the country had voted for Copperhead Governors in a fit of passion, and would be sorry for it before many months. But, if there was any value in it, it is as applicable at this moment to the affairs of this State, as it was a year ago to those of the United States. The State of New-York has passed a vote of want of confidence in Gov. Seymour, and declared that it disapproves both of his opinions and his policy. It cannot call on him to resign, as the Constitution insures him the peaceable tenure of his office for two years, but would it not, after all, be a graceful thing for a gentleman who has such profound respect for the popular voice as he professes to have, to waive all technicalities and come down out of his place, even though he is not compelled to do so?

We confess we have neither the least expectation nor the least desire to see him do so. We have no wish to see the Executive, whether State or Federal, here, assimilated to that of England in its relations with the public.

We desire to have its members serve out the term prescribed for them by the Constitution; but we desire also to have them carry out whatever appears plainly to be the settled and deliberate opinion of the people—not their passing whims, or caprices, but their matured resolves. If anything be clear it is that it is the deliberate and well-settled resolve of the country that the war shall be carried on, and that it shall be carried on not in Gov. Seymour's way, or Mr Vallandigham's way, but in President Lincoln's way. Whether or not the war has been diverted from its original aim as Copperheads have been so fond of asserting during the last year, is now a matter of no moment whatever. The country has decided that it approved of its present aim, whether it be the original one or not. It may be that it is "not a war for the Union, but a war for the nigger," but if so, it appears that the people desire to carry on a "war for the nigger," and it will hardly be alleged that they have not the right to do so if they please. It will be injudicious, or impolitic, or inhuman, but we believe when the majority of American citizens determine that the United States shall engage in hostilities, no matter for what purpose, their decision is final and binding. The Emancipation Proclamation also has now been before the public for action. They have had ample time and opportunity for its discussion and examination in every possible aspect. They have heard all that is said for it and against it; they have carefully watched its working, and they have decided that the Administration is to be supported in carrying it out. It may be that it is unconstitutional, but until the Courts declare it so, it has now the highest sanction known to our system of Government, and there is, therefore, no further question as to its right to the hearty and unquestioning support of all parties and all classes.

Under these circumstances it is evident that Gov. Seymour is bound by every consideration of duty to lay his private opinions on all these matters on the shelf for the present, and devote himself to the support of the Government, not as if it needed to be snubbed and held in check by him in behalf of the nation, but as if it were the nation itself. All the points he has raised against it have been decided in its favor, by the only tribunal which has any jurisdiction in the premises, and it is now entitled to as hearty assistance at his hands as if he had dictated its whole policy.

Fort Sumter.—The Philadelphian tale, which excited the country on Saturday, to the effect that Gen. Gillmore had captured Fort Sumter's ruins, and that the "Stars and Stripes waved over" them, etc., etc., was a little too fast. The Philadelphians dated our triumph on Monday last; but we publish letters from our special correspondent as late as Wednesday, and we have rebel dispatches from Charleston as late as Thursday—on which days the active bombardment of Sumter was going on, but the rag of the rebellion still shook its wretched figure over the ruins—fit type of the desperate tenacity with which the rebels uphold a ruined cause.

It is evident, however, that our military and naval forces have commenced work in earnest against the rebel fortifications in Charleston harbor. The fleet is making itself felt as well as the army. Gen. Gillmore seems to have confined himself almost entirely to playing upon the carcass or corpse of Fort Sumter, with an occasional shot in the direction of Fort Moultrie, and one or two into Charleston itself. There are no indications yet as to the precise plan of action to be carried out between him and Admiral Dahlgren. Gen. Gillmore delights in surprises and unforeseen movements; and it is quite likely that the public will quickly be astonished by the successful execution of some manœuvre which none of us are now looking for. We believe now, as we have always believed, that he has a labor of extraordinary difficulty on hand, and one that, while it admits of the performance of many beautiful acts, in succession, is not likely to be brought very suddenly to complete and final success.

The Advance in Virginia.

The intelligence of the advance of the Army of the Potomac, coming as it does with such happy omens and actualities of preliminary success, will thrill the public nerve with pleasurable surprise. The move itself—at a time when so much hangs upon our activity in Virginia—is very gratifying; the captures are large enough to make a brilliant bulletin; and the strategic advantages already gained are very great. The movements of Gen. Meade have, for some days past, been shrouded in obscurity, but it is obvious, from the line of march he has taken up, and the points at which he has thrown his army upon and across the Rappahannock, that he does not again mean to try the route by Culpepper and the upper Rapidan, the disadvantages of which had become so apparent. The army passed the Rappahannock at the railroad crossing and at Kelly's Ford, the same point at which Hooker's main force crossed for the Chancellorsville campaign. This indicates a purpose of advance by the Fredericksburgh line. There is no fear, however, that our army will need, this time, to undergo such an ordeal as it has twice gone through in getting possession of its frowning heights, for the position in which Gen. Meade has planted his army takes Fredericksburgh in reverse. He will now be able also to obtain his supplies by way of Aquia Creek, a route entirely clear of guerrillas. Gen. Meade has effected the passage of the Rappahannock in a very handsome manner. Everything now depends on the operations of the next few days. A single march will bring him to the old Chancellorsville battle-ground. The Army of the Potomac has never yet been able to stay more than three or four days south of the Rappahannock. It is fair to expect better luck this time.

Re-enlistment of Troops—An Important Movement in the Army.

We give in another column an important document, drawn up by the Colonel commanding the Excelsior brigade, of the Army of the Potomac, and at the instance of the officers and men of that brigade. It is the first public indication of a movement which we know has been extensively discussed and approved among the soldiers of all our armies—a movement to reënlist in companies and regiments "for the war" at the expiration of their present terms of service. The Excelsior brigade represents six regiments—but its numbers have been so reduced by the casualties of service, that it has now only about 2,500 men, and of these only 1,500 are present for duty. This body of men, by their acting Brigadier-General, desire to remain in the service till the close of the war, and offer to reënlist for an additional term of three years, on the simple conditions that they be allowed to return to this City for sixty days to recruit their thinned ranks, and that, when reorganized, it be as a brigade of mounted infantry. The officers of all the regiments guarantee that their commands will all reënlist, and that by the 5th of January the brigade will return to the army 5,000 strong.

The offer is not only unobjectionable, but it is honorable and patriotic, and opens up an admirable method by which our army can be recruited and reinforced by voluntary enlistment. The method, as we have said, has been widely discussed in the army; and the soldiers, who certainly must be allowed to have a fair idea as to the best means of recruiting, have generally approved of it. Vast numbers of the old soldiers are anxious to reënlist; in the words of Col. Brewster, they wish to serve till the close of the war, and those who belonged to regiments or brigades that have done as honorable service, as the Excelsior, desire to retain their old organization, to cling to their old flags, to keep their old souvenirs, and to fight shoulder to shoulder while there is an enemy on the continent to fight. Each one of these old soldiers is worth three raw recruits; and each recruit introduced into a regiment, which has a skeleton, or cadre, of veterans, is worth twice as much as he would be if he formed part of an organization entirely unversed and inexperienced in the duties of the field. This plan has not the objection which appertains to that recently proposed to the War Department by Gov. Morton, of Indiana, for, if we understand it aright, the Excelsior brigade desires to reënlist while in the field, and before they come home, so that, during their absence from the field, they would still be soldiers, and would remain under military law.

The idea of mounted infantry, as applied to some of the brigades, is one which may well be adopted. This style of troops is greatly needed in all our armies, and we have urged the matter upon the War Department for two years. All the brigades or regiments that might offer to reënlist could not, of course, be accepted upon such a condition; but we think it may well be allowed, and with great advantage to the service, in the case of the Excelsior brigade.

We suppose the Government will accept the noble and patriotic offer of these gallant veterans. And when brought to this City, we hope that the bounties to recruits will be paid promptly. In that case, we believe its ranks would be full by the close of the year, and it would return to the field with flying colors, prepared to add new honors to all those which already cluster around the Excelsior brigade.

Stimers vs. Dupont.

If Mr. Engineer Stimers had consulted the interest of his reputation, he would not have published the paper which, under the title of his "Defence," he has given to the public prints. Mr. Stimers was tried before a Court of Inquiry, on charges preferred against him, by Rear-Admiral Dupont, of language unbecoming an officer of the Navy. He was acquitted of these charges, and had he had the wit to hold his tongue, he would have come off with flying colors, in the estimation of all who knew nothing whatever about the matter. He has not had the wit to do so.

It appears from this publication that Mr. Engineer Stimers, on the occasion of the attack of Fort Sumter by Admiral Dupont last April, was charged by the Government with the duty of proceeding to Charleston harbor, to watch and report the proceedings of the iron-clad monitors in action, and assist in maintaining them in readiness for battle. It further appears that subsequent to that attack he was understood to have publicly asserted that the assault was feeble and insufficient; that it ought to have been renewed; that the iron-clads were in a fit condition to do it; that several of the commanders had told him they were "hot for renewing the engagement;" that the iron-clads could go into Charleston harbor in spite of guns, torpedoes and obstructions; and that Admiral Dupont was too much prejudiced against the monitors to give them a fair trial. These reports coming to the ear of Admiral Dupont, he, as in duty bound, demanded an investigation of the matter before a Court of Inquiry. This was had. The speeches with which Mr. Stimers was charged could not be fastened upon him by positive evidence, and he was acquitted.

If the matter had gone no further, people might be disposed charitably to attribute to Mr. Stimers the common sense and common honesty of not having held this language. But, unfortunately for our estimate of both, he has not allowed the matter to rest here. He has put every honest mind in the attitude of contempt by the audacious statement that "if he had said all that is charged, it would, in his judgment, have been no more than he was authorized to say!" We are, therefore, to understand that he openly charges Admiral Dupont with a prejudice against the monitors that prevented his giving them a fair trial. If Mr. Stimers means anything else, it will be well for him to make haste to say so.

We are not in the secret of Mr. Stimer's publication. He must feel that he has a strong "right bower" in the Navy Department to venture on making such assertions. Indeed he so frequently tries to assimilate his own views with those of the Government as to leave the impression that they either have, or that he would try to make us believe they have, official sanction. If they are not so authorized, we submit whether justice does not demand that the Department shall say so.

Mr. Stimers' one leading point in proof of his accusation against the sufficiency of Admiral Dupont's attack is, that the Admiral did not make use of certain instruments, popularly known as "Devils," which had been designed by Capt. Ericsson for the purpose of removing the obstructions in Charleston Harbor. These appliances consisted of a great raft to be attached to the bow of the monitors, and on the front of this was to be hung a huge shell, which was to be used for removing, by explosive force, obstructions within the harbor. The principle embodied in the Latin proverb, omne ignotum pro magnifico, gives Mr. Stimers a famous opening for expatiation on the wonderful powers and possibilities of these "devilish" devices, if they had only been used. For here was the rub. "Dupont declined to order their employment." And not only this, but he declined to give Mr. Stimers permission to go into the action with one of the monitors thus armed, which was worse still; for if a monitor, with a "devil" attached, would, as he confidently says, "have passed the obstructions," a monitor, a "devil" and Mr. Stimers would have blown the whole harbor to Halifax, to say the very least. But whether they would have done this or something else can best be judged by a few facts, which we proceed to briefly state. We are much mistaken if they do not explode this "valuable instrument" much more effectually than it would ever have exploded any of the rebel torpedoes, and if they do not put Mr. Stimers in the position of another "engineer," who found himself "hoist with his own petard."

Mr. Stimers affirms that Admiral Dupont "declined to order the employment" of these contrivances. True, but did he not invite their employment by any of the Captains who were willing to try them? He did, and not one was willing to do so. Why was this, again? Pure "prejudice?" Not at all. It was the result of previous experiments in Edisto—experiments which convinced every man that the monitors, encumbered with these appendages, would neither be able to steer nor go. It was under these circumstances—under the belief of every Captain that the contrivances were an utter delusion and snare, and that the attempt to navigate the monitors with them in the tide-way of Charleston harbor would have insured the destruction of their vessels, that the Captains, not Admiral Dupont, declined to use them.

But Mr. Stimers tells us that he had experimented with them. "The effectiveness of these shells had been so tested by me before they were sent to Admiral Dupont as to make it clear to my mind, and to that of the Government, that they would be practically safe and capable of clearing the track of battle." This might be imposing did we not know that the conditions under which these experiments were made were altogether different from those under which the instruments would be practically used—that the raft was attached to a steamer, not to a monitor, (the difference of speed being an essentially differentiating condition,) and that his "experiments" consisted in blowing up a certain amount of water, (not the element to be eliminated,) and that he never in all his experiments blew up anything else the size of a shingle. Whether the Government considers the experiments and conclusions of the united Captains of the fleet or those of Mr. Stimers as entitled to most weight, is pretty well settled in the fate of these contrivances. For is it not strange that, if the "mind of the Government" was so complete a convert to their capacity as Mr. Stimers claims, they have never been sent to Admiral Dahlgren; and not only so, but that they have been thrown aside, and are now actually being used as kindling-wood and old iron?

Such is the "baseless fabric" which forms the gravamen of the railing accusation of Engineer Stimers. Indeed, with the exception of a feeble attempt to show that "the monitors were not materially injured," it forms the whole scope of his argument. Now we are willing to concede that the monitors were not all sent to the bottom of Charleston harbor—that in thirty-five minutes only five out of the nine were put hors du combat. What the amount of that disabling was is not material to inquire, (though, if we recollect aright, instead of all being "as good as ever" in a few hours, as Mr. Stimers asserts, they were weeks and weeks at Port Royal, undergoing repairs:) they were as completely out of the fight as if they had been sent to the bottom of the harbor. The essential point is that a trial had been made, and that every Captain came out convinced that to renew the assault would be madness and utter destruction. These men were the very flower of our navy and presented an assemblage of officers so conspicuous for their gallantry and skill that probably their match was never seen in any service in the world. They were satisfied; but it seems Mr. Stimers was not!

We do not think that the conduct of Admiral Dupont needs any defence; but if it did, the course of events has furnished one which is so powerful that no possible argument could have a tithe of its force. Admiral Dupont was displaced, and a commander placed over the fleet who was known to share all the Government's views respecting iron-clads, and who was certainly innocent of all "prejudice" against the monitors. Well, what has he done? He has been four months in front of Charleston harbor, and the iron-clads have not, during the whole time, been under as much fire as they were during Dupont's immortal half hour. With the immense advantage, over Dupont, of the army to cover his flank; with the whole of Morris Island and all its works in our possession; with Sumter a mass of ruins and its tremendous battery closed in everlasting silence, why does he not rush up into Charleston? We do not ask this in censure of Admiral Dahlgren, but we do say that it is a complete vindication of his illustrious predecessor. He knows the difficulties, and knows the deficiencies of his instruments. The Government, too, have had some of those delusions, which they before refused to yield, rudely dissipated. As for the public, it has long ago got over the monitor mania While believing that as an experiment in one class of iron-clads they are valuable, and will still be able to do much, we know not only that they are not invulnerable, but that their weaknesses are very numerous and very great. There are now left to support them à l'outrance only those whose share in this vast vested interest, amounting to tens of millions of dollars, allows them to descend to anything to sustain them—even to such an attempt as we have been seeing to sully the pure and spotless fame of the grandest sailor of modern times.

From the Tribune.

Mr. Postmaster-General Blair, a few weeks since, made a speech at Rockville, Md. Its first result was a warm welcome from the Copperhead Press throughout the country; its second, a poll of two hundred votes in Rockville precinct, every one of which was cast for Harris, the Secession candidate for Congress. We call that a remarkable success.

☞ It is not quite fair to charge this result wholly to the speech of Mr. Blair. We have instances in our own election which illustrate the danger of thus estimating the effect of individual efforts. In one of the Assembly Districts of Brooklyn, for example, Mr. Greeley made a speech in favor of electing Mr. Callicot, an independent nominee, over the regular candidate of the Union party, Mr. Perry, and he was ably supported in this effort by the Tribune and Evening Post. The result showed that out of about 5,000 votes polled, Mr. Callicot received about 250, and Mr. Perry was elected by a majority nearly twice as large as Mr. Callicot's whole vote. It is possible that if Mr. Greeley had not gone there and made a speech, Mr. Callicot's vote would have been larger, but it would be scarcely the thing to say so.

Patriotic Offer to the Government.

THE FAMOUS EXCELSIOR BRIGADE PROPOSES TO ENLIST FOR AN ADDITIONAL THREE YEARS OR THE WAR.

It will be seen by the accompanying letter, written by Col. William R. Brewster, commanding the Excelsior Brigade, and addressed to the Adjutant-General of the United States Army, that this veteran organization offers to reënlist for three years or the war, on condition of being allowed the privilege to reorganize as mounted infantry. They also desire to be permitted to return to New-York for a period of sixty days to recruit.

The popularity of this brigade among New-Yorkers, who are justly proud of its brilliant achievements, is such as to leave no room for doubt but that the promise made in Col. Brewster's application, to return to the field five thousand strong by the 5th of next January, will be fulfilled. It may be regarded as a certainty that the War Department will accept the services of this noble band of men, upon the simple conditions they have asked.

No greater compliment could be paid the Government than this unanimous offer of these heroes of many battles, who have passed through all the vicissitudes and dangers of a soldier's life, and who now come forward with true patriotism to tender again their services until the final triumph of our arms.

Headquarters Excelsior Brigade,
Second Division Third Army Corps,
Nov. 2, 1863.

General: The term of service of the First, Second, Third, Fourth and Fifth regiments of this brigade (the Seventieth, Seventy-first, Seventy-second, Seventy-third and Seventy-fourth regiments New-York State Volunteers) expires in June and July, 1864. The One Hundred and Twentieth New-York Volunteers was attached to the brigade in November last, and has some twenty months yet to serve, but owing to the heavy losses it has sustained is equally reduced in numbers with the others, which have been longer in the service.

By the casualties of the service, our numbers are now so much reduced that the six regiments number but 1,291 commissioned officers and enlisted men present for duty, and 1,015 absent.

Those absent are mostly disabled from wounds received at Chancellorsville and Gettysburgh, and not more than one-third of them will ever return to duty.

This brigade has participated in every action in which the Army of the Potomac has been engaged, with the single exception of the battle of Antietam, when our corps, on account of its severe losses upon the Peninsula, and in the campaign of Pope, was ordered to Alexandria to rest and recruit.

The officers and men of this command, proud of its record, which has never been tarnished, and desirous of perpetuating it by remaining in the service till the close of the war, now offer to re-enlist in the service of the Government for an additional term of three years, upon the following conditions:

1. That they are allowed to reorganize as a brigade of mounted infantry, to be known as the "Excelsior" Brigade of Mounted Infantry.

2. That the brigade be allowed to go to New-York, where it was raised, and remain until the 5th of January next, which is the expiration of the time allowed by the President's Proclamation for raising men by volunteering.

Should you deem it expedient to accept this proposition, I am authorized by the commandants of regiments to say that their commands will all reënlist, and they are willing to guarantee, that at the expiration of the time above-mentioned, they will return to the army 5,000 strong, and form a body of men, second to none in the service of the United States.

The cities of New-York and Brooklyn, as also the principal towns and counties of the State, are now making arrangements to offer large bounties to volunteers, in addition to that allowed by the Government, and should the brigade be allowed to take advantage of them at once, I feel confident that each of the six regiments, would by the first of January next report for duty filled to the minimum and probably to the maximum standard.

Trusting you will give me an early and favorable reply, I remain

Very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
WM. R. BREWSTER,
Colonel Commanding Brigade.

To the Adjutant-General of the Army, Washington.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON.

OUR SPECIAL WASHINGTON DISPATCHES.

Washington, Sunday, Nov. 8.

ADVANCE OF THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.

The long-hesitated movement of the Army of the Potomac, for which cooked rations began to be chewed on Tuesday last, was finally commenced on Friday afternoon. The Second and Fifth corps made a feint to cross the Rappahannock and Rapidan, above Kelly's Ford, and the First, Third and Sixth marched to cross the river at Banks' Ford, and to take Fredericksburgh, and get a fight out of Lee's army. The suspension of this movement from Tuesday to Friday is charged principally to the account of a tardy supply of forage.

POOR PROSPECTS OF THE COTTON CROP.

One of the most intelligent members of the last House, who has just returned from a tour of observation in Mississippi, represents to the Administration that not 50,000 bales of cotton will be raised in the entire South this year, and that next year not a single bale will be raised, unless the Government immediately sets to work to save the labor of the slaves, who are threatened with destruction by starvation and exposure. Not less than eighteen hundred thousand field negroes are penned in Georgia and Alabama—driven in from the outer Slave States. The loss of this enormous productive machinery is actually a threatened calamity of this Winter's campaign.

SECRETARY CHASE AND THE TREASURY WORKMEN.

The report of the Committee of the workmen of the Treasury Extension on a strike, who were appointed to negotiate with Mr. Chase an amelioration of the conditions under which they were required to work, was that Mr. Chase deprecated the strike as he would any other attempt to coerce the Department to adopt any rule by dictation. He said he could not properly make any decision until he had fully informed himself of all the facts, and of the practice of other Departments. This he could not do at the moment, but would do it as soon as the pressure of public business would admit.

The Secretary further said that the half-hour rule for dinner was adopted for the men's convenience; as it did not appear to promote their convenience, the order would be rescinded, and he would immediately so direct.

The Secretary told the Committee that if the men chose to go to work under Mr. Rogers' original order, so as not to interfere with the progress of the work, he would give the matter his attention and decision at the earliest moment consistent with public duties. When this decision should be rendered, it should take date from the recommencement of work so that no injustice would be done to any one. If the decision should be satisfactory to the men, they could then continue their work. If it should not be, they could then dissolve their connection with it, and no one of them would be annoyed.

This report was not received with favor by the working men.

Mr. James A. Cooper said he could not see that the Secretary had yet replied to any of their demands, and moved that, as they had struck for the old rates they do not go to work until their demands are complied with. They had struck for an hour by sun to sunset, and he for one wanted a decisive and distinct answer before he went to work. The question was whether they should work on their old rules or under the new ones.

Mr. John Riggs said that he had understood that Mr. Rogers had gone North to look for hands to fill their places, and he did not know but that the Secretary was waiting to hear from Mr. Rogers. It seemed to him that it took the Secretary "a long time to say yes or no."

Mr. Martin argued that as the Secretary had sustained the order of Mr. Rogers, if they went to work on his request they would trample on their rights.

The question was asked if the Secretary wished them to work from 7 to 5, which would amount to a reduction of 25 cents per day.

Mr. Suter explained that the Secretary wished them to work on the last order, and if he decided that they were entitled to a day's work they would receive it, but if his decision was not satisfactory they could do as they are doing now.

The men finally resolved to go to work again, but to continue their Committee of Negotiation, who were instructed to report Mr. Chase's decision whenever it should be obtained.

THE STRIKE OF THE BOOKBINDERS.

Mr. Defrees, the Superintendent of the Government printing-office, and universally respected and beloved by compositors, was compelled to refuse the demands of the bookbinders on Friday by the impossibility of getting his accounts passed through the Treasury if he paid the increase of wages asked. The bookbinders all left work, and it is understood that the work in the bindery will cease until the difficulties are adjusted. The number of bookbinders employed at the Government office is about sixty, but of course their cessation of work will affect about the same number of girls, who are to-day, however, at work as usual, but they, should the bookbinders cease work for any length of time, will be obliged to stop. The compositors employed at that office held a meeting last night, and rescinded the resolution passed on Tuesday night, looking to making the same demands as the bookbinders, and they are at work to-day as usual; but it is understood that the subject will be brought before the Typographical Society to-night, when, if the resolution should be passed, all the establishments in the city will be affected. It is stated that, should the bookbinders be successful in carrying their point, there will be a general strike of all the other departments of the Government office, which now employs about 600 persons, male and female.

INSURANCE COMPANIES AND INTERNAL REVENUE.

Commissioner Lewis to-day decided that all dividends of the gains, profits or accumulation of Life Insurance Companies declared on money or scrip, or added as a bonus or augmentation to the policy of the insured, since the 1st day of September, 1862, including such as were divided before that day but not payable till after, are liable to the duty of 3 per cent., under section 82 of the Excise law, whenever the same shall be paid or used in reduction of the premium upon any policy, or in payment or part payment of any premium note given to such Company. And whenever the holder of a policy shall realize, on a surrender of it to the insurer, an advance on the premium, 3 per cent, must be paid on said advance.

DEPOSITORIES OF GOVERNMENT FUNDS.

The Second National Bank, at Cincinnati, and the First National Bank, at Towanda, Penn., have been designated as depositories of public money, and Commissioner Lewis has directed the nearest Collectors to these Banks to make deposits therein.

EXAMINING SURGEONS.

Drs. Rufus Bakes, Middletown, Conn.; Samuel Gregg, Medina, Ohio; Edward V. Spencer, Mt. Vernon, Ind.; Edward Loomis, Oneida, New-York; Reuben C. Dunham, Seneca Falls, New-York; and W. J. Liebler, St. Mary's, Ohio, have been appointed examining surgeons by the Commissioner of Pensions.

DISPATCHES TO THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sunday, Nov. 8.

THE PAYMENT OF GOLD INTEREST-BEARING CERTIFICATES SUSPENDED.

It is not thought that the public interest requires any further payment at present of gold interest-bearing certificates of indebtedness before maturing, and the Secretary of the Treasury has accordingly directed the discontinuance of such payment, excepting certificates already presented or now in transit to the Department.

RETURN OF SECRETARY SEWARD.

The Secretary of State has arrived in this city by the night train from New-York, having left his son, Col. Seward, convalescent.

PROVOST-MARSHAL'S OFFICE ABOLISHED.

The Sunday Chronicle announces a fact of much interest in this city and neighborhood, viz.: that the Secretary of War has discontinued the office of Provost-Marshal to the War Department; but the late incumbent, Col. Baker, will remain in Washington for the present.

APPOINTMENT.

Capt. Richard H. Lee, late of the Sixth New Jersey Volunteers, has been appointed Postmaster for Camden in that State.

INTERESTING FROM NEW-ORLEANS

Departure by Sea of a Large Military Expedition.

MOVEMENTS IN THE TECHE DISTRICT.

The Thirteenth and Nineteenth Corps Still at Opelousas.

The U. S. steam transport Daniel Webster, Capt. Sherman, arrived at this port this morning from New-Orleans, Oct. 29, Ship Island, 30th, and Tortugas 2d inst.

She brings home the One Hundred and Seventy-sixth New-York Volunteers, under command of Capt. Barbor, numbering 400 men, their time having expired. She also brings a mail from the U. S. sloop-of-war St. Vincent, at Ship Island.

The Daniel Webster brings news of the departure from New-Orleans, under Maj.-Gen. Banks in person, of the expedition which for some weeks has been fitting out under direction of Maj.-Gen. Dana. The number of troops composing the expedition is not announced, but the fleet of transports is quite numerous. The steamship McClellan, Capt. Gray, is flagship, and the fleet includes the steamships Crescent, St. Marys, Clinton, T. A. Scott, Pocahontas, Northerner, Empire City, Hussar, Nassau, Belvidere, Peabody, General Banks, Exact, Bagley, Zephyr and Union. Several schooners and tugs are also attached to the fleet as tenders to the transports. Three war-vessels convoy the expedition, viz.: the Monongahela, Capt. Strong, Owasco, Lieut.-Commanding Henry, and Virginia, Lieut. Brown. These vessels are under the command of Capt. Strong, of the Monongahela.

The fleet crossed the bar of the Southwest Pass on the morning of the 27th for its destination, on which we will not hazard a conjecture.

The following orders on anchoring were issued:

Immediately after anchoring on the enemy's coast, all boats will be cleared away; transports towing steam-tugs will cast them off, and those towing schooners will haul them up and await orders.

The soldiers will be provided with four days' cooked rations. This will be necessary, as there will be probably no fuel on shore. Their canteens will also be filled with good water, and they will be cautioned to be very careful in the use of it. The men will then be formed, with arms, in good order, and bayonets in the scabbard. They will then step into the small boats and be rowed ashore. Every soldier will be supplied with the full amount of forty rounds of ammunition in his cartridge box, and those who are on board of transports, which carry ammunition, will carry twenty rounds extra in their knapsacks.

The Nineteenth and Thirteenth Army corps are not in the vicinity of Vermillionville, or between there and Opelousas. It is certain they have not advanced beyond Opelousas, and propably they will remain where they are, holding the country already in our possession until something is heard from the expedition which lately sailed from there. There has been no fighting. There are rumors of an attack on our lines at different points of the Bayou Teche, but they are unfounded.

Death of a Telegraph Operator.

PHILADELPHIA, Sunday, Nov. 8.

Information having been received yesterday, by an arrival at New-York, of the death of Frank T. McIntier, U. S. N., Assistant Paymaster on the United States steamer De Soto, a special meeting of the telegraph operators of this city, was held this evening to testify their respect for the memory of their late associate, who was highly esteemed by them, and who previous to his appointment in the United States Navy, held the responsible position of operator in the capitol building at Washington, where he was well known and highly esteemed by the members of the Press, the senators and representatives in Congress, and the public generally, for his talents, his integrity and his virtues.

Mr. Robert J. Black presided at the meeting, and Mr. James J. Reville acted as Secretary.

A Committee, consisting of Messrs. Woodruff, Reville, Partrick, Morrow and Buckwell were appointed to adopt appropriate resolutions, and the following series of resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, The reception of the sad news of the death of our late friend and associate, Mr. Frank T. McIntier, U. S. N., has created a feeling of the deepest sympathy, expressive only in our own hearts; and, whereas, he has ever performed his duties to the entire satisfaction of his friends, and benefit of his brethren, we feel it incumbent upon us that his merits shall not be forgotten; therefore be it

Resolved, That we hereby testify our respect for the memory of the deceased, who was ever ready to "answer" on "report," and who has now "responded" to the "last call." An amiable companion, a generous friend, his loss opens a "circuit" which has continued for years without "interruption." Requiescat in pace.

The Maryland Election.

BALTIMORE, Sunday, Nov. 8.

The whole of the State has been heard from, except Calvert and Montgomery Counties. Goldsborough's majority is 26,662. The counties to be heard from may reduce it 1,000.

Creswell's majority over Critfield in the First District is 1,721.

Harris is elected in the Fifth District by nearly 2,000 majority over Holland. The combined vote of Calvert and Holland would have beat him.

From California.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sunday, Nov. 8.

The Russian war steamer Ryanda, 30 days from Hakodade, has arrived. This completes the Russian fleet which intends to Winter here. A grand ball and supper will soon be given to the Russian officers, at Union Hall, which will cost about $10,000. The decoration of the hall has been contracted for at $1,000.

Joseph Myrick, an old merchant, died yesterday.

The Washoe Constitution Convention has agreed upon Nevada as the name of the proposed State.

The business of the week now ended has been eminently satisfactory to the jobbing interests; while the importers of most the leading staples have had cause for general dissatisfaction on account of the laxity of demand.

The Telegraphic Union.

PHILADELPHIA, Sunday, Nov. 8.

At a meeting of the Telegraphic Union in this city to-day, resolutions were adopted refusing to indorse the action of the late National Telegraph Convention so far as concerned the adoption of what is termed the "charity clause," allowing a certain amount per week to a sick member, and also the provision excluding certain operators from the benefits of the Association.

Much interest is felt in the welfare of the new Association by the members in this city, and, no doubt, it will be placed on a permanent basis.

AMUSEMENTS.

Mr. Maretzek announces a new production this week. It will be brought out on Wednesday, and is the "Judith" of Maestro Peri. The subject is a Biblical one, and has been treated in a masterly manner by the composer, who, although comparatively unknown here, enjoys a good European reputation. To-night, Mme. Medori will give her grand impersonation of the priestess in Bellini's "Norma." It is her best rôle, and will suffice, undoubtedly, to fill the house. The Russian decorations will, we suppose, be removed. The sooner the better. They were ere not of a character to add brilliancy to an art establishment.

Mr. Grau will give two performances of Italian opera this week at Niblo's Garden, and one representation at the Brooklyn Academy of Music. The opera on all these occasions will be the same—"La Favorita." Mme. Vera Lorini, Mr. Grau's dramatic prima donna, sustains the rôle of Leonora. It was one of the stipulations in her contract that she should make her début in New-York, and in this particular work; hence Mr. Grau's immediate raid. It was found impossible, owing to the jealousy of artists, to give Mr. Grau the off nights at the Academy of Music. The singing birds who are so warmly nested there do not relish the idea of being pecked out of their places by a bevy of new comers. Perhaps it was as well that it turned out so. The public will thoroughly appreciate Mr. Grau's motive in giving two operatic evenings at Niblo's, and discriminate between that necessary act and a useless and vexatious opposition. We are persuaded that Niblo's Garden will be crowded to its greatest capacity on Wednesday next. The interest of a début is one attraction, and Mr. Grau's popularity with the best opera audiences of the Metropolis is another. Signor Stefani, a tenor who was here two or three years ago, and is said to have greatly improved, makes his rentrée as Fernando, and Signor Morelli also renews his acquaintance with our audience as Alfonso.

Mr. Harry Sanderson, one of our most popular performers on the piano-forte, and a gentleman who never hesitates to lend a helping hand to those who require it, will be the recipient of a complimentary benefit on Wednesday next. The entertainment has been gotten up by a Committee of friends, and will be one of the best of the season. We hope that Mr. Sanderson will be rewarded with a substantial token of the public's regard.

The Wollenhaupt Memorial Concert on Wednesday was a complete success. Irving Hall was crowded to its utmost capacity; indeed, if that spacious edifice had been twice its present size, it would hardly have accommodated all who wished to obtain admission. The result will be very gratifying; more than two thousand dollars will be handed over to the relatives of the deceased. The performances were conducted with much spirit, and passed off without a single disappointment. Where all were actuated by a kindly motive, it would be wrong to make distinctions. The thanks of the Committee are due to Miss Clara Louise Kellogg, Mr. S. C. Campbell, Signor Mongiardino, Mr. L. M. Gottschalk, Mr. S. B. Mills, Mr. Theodore Thomas, Mr. J. N. Pattison, Mr. Robert Heller, Mr. Wm. Mason, Mr. Harry Sanderson, Mr. Mosenthal, Mr. Matzka, Mr. Bergner, Signor Muzio, Mr. H. C. Timm and Mr. Charles Wels.

Election night is a bad night for æsthetic enjoyment, and worse still for attracting an audience to a peculiar and elevated kind of entertainment. Mr. Stoepel had to suffer from this cause on Tuesday last, when he revived his celebrated cantata-symphonique "Hiawatha." Under ordinary circumstances Irving Hall would have been crowded; as it was there was an audience which probably paid expenses, and amply demonstrated that, had the night been more favorable, there would have been a more gratifying result. The work will be repeated during the present week. It is, in many respects, novel, and in all, admirable. Longfellow's musical trochaics are intensified by Mr. Stoepel, with a graceful earnestness and fluent freshness of invention that can hardly be better. The solos are rich in distinctive, even characteristic melody; the choruses constitute a vivid background, and the orchestration, whilst it displays the aptness of a man of talent, reveals the erudition of a thorough musician. "Hiawatha" is the most important musical work that has lately been produced in America. The poem was read by Matilda Heron; mildly and inoffensively in the first part; earnestly and well in the second. Messrs. Wm. Hall & Son, the well known music publishers, are about to issue the music of "Hiawatha." Many of the numbers will obtain a wide degree of popularity.

The vicinity of Irving Hall was literally choked with sweet sounds on Saturday. For twelve hours there was hardly a breath of relief in the musical plethora. It opened in the morning with the third rehearsal of the Philharmonic Society. This had scarcely terminated when Mr. Theodore Thomas' third popular matinée commenced. Simultaneously Mr. Maretzek opened the doors of the Academy for his last combination matinée. An hour or two's rest was all that the musicians could enjoy ere they were called upon to take part in the first Philharmonic Concert, at the Academy, and the first Promenade Concert of the Seventh Regiment, at Irving Hall. We shall not be able to dwell at length on any of these entertainments, nor is it necessary; they were all excellent. A delightfully varied programme was furnished by Mr. Thomas, and was given with great effect by the orchestra. The soloists were Mr. Gottschalk and Miss Fanny Riddell, a young lady who possesses a fine voice, and knows how to use it skillfully. Mr. Gottschalk was assisted by Mr. Harry Sanderson, and with that gentleman, played several of the most popular duets. At the Academy of Music a splended attendance was assembled. The whole of "Lucia," with Ortolani Brignoli as the heroine, was given, and an act from "Martha." In the latter, Miss Kellogg appeared. Her impersonation of Lady Henriette, is one of the most charming realizations of the modern Italian repertoire. At the Philharmonic Concert the instrumental features were Schumann's Symphony No. 2; the Overture to "Coriolanus," by Beethoven, and to the "Flying Dutchman," by Richard Wagner. They were excellently played by the orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Carl Bergmann. Mr. S. B. Mills was the solo pianist, and acquitted himself with the masterly precision and healthful largeness of style for which he is remarkable. The Society was also lucky enough to have the services of Miss Kellogg, who, we need scarcely add, was thoroughly enjoyable.

There will be a grand musical entertainment to-night at Irving Hall for the benefit of the Rose Hill Ladies' Soldiers Relief Association. Mr. Gottschalk will assist on the occasion, and Mlle. Cordier, who has accepted an engagement from M. Max Strakosch, will make her first appearance this season therein. This admirable vocalist is a host in herself. The public will be glad to welcome her back to the Metropolis. Mr. Campbell, the basso, assists: also Mr. Carlo Patti, Mr. Sanderson, Mr. G. W. Warren, and Mr. Behrens, conductor.

The Park Theatre, Brooklyn.—Mr. Harrison produced with great success, last week, a faithful representation of His Satanic Majesty in Paris, which was nightly greeted by full houses and deserved applause. To-night he produces the "Pet of the Petticoats," with an excellent cast, embodying the respective merits of Miss Mary Shaw, Miss Singleton and Miss Morton, with Messrs. Andrews, Whiting and Lennox. The constant success which attends this theatre is most gratifying to the public, and we presume not unpleasant to the manager.

Mr. Anschutz enters on his second week in Philadelphia to-night. He has met with much success there.

George Christy issues a new programme to-night. It is up to the moment, and capable of keeping the audience in a roar.

The announcements at the various places to-night are more than usually interesting. A new burlesque will be brought out at Mrs. Wood's "Olympic." It is on the well known subject of the "Duke's Motto," and is called "The Motto; I am all there." The performances commence with the comedietta called "There's no Such Word as Fail." At Wallack's the drama of "Rosedale" is still the attraction; at the Winter Garden Mr. and Mrs. Florence produce a new romantic drama called "Katrina Hartenstein;" at Niblo's Mr. Wheatley repeats his magnificent version of "Coriolanus" with Mr. Forrest as the hero; at Barnum's Museum there are a variety of entertainments; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gomersal have been engaged for a short time, and appear in the opera of the "Daughter of the Regiment." The drama is "Bramhilda—or Wake not the Dead"—a piece in which the public has a choice of Ghosts. At the Theatre Francais to-morrow night "Les 37 sous de M. Montandoir," "Je Dine chez ma Mere," and "Le Caporal et la Payse."

AN EX-DEPUTY-COLLECTOR OF CUSTOMS IN CUSTODY—HE IS CHARGED WITH FORGERY ON ONE OF HIS SUCCESSORS.—An examination was begun before Justice Dowling on Saturday in the case of John Wilson, Jr., formerly Deputy Collector of Customs in this City under the Pierce and Buchanan administration. Wilson was arrested in Chicago by Officer White, attached to District Attorney Hall's office, and brought to this City. Edward Haight, Esq., President of the Bank of the Commonwealth, appeared as complainant, and stated under oath that Wilson offered a note for $1,000 to be discounted at the Bank on the 30th of May last. The note purported to be indorsed on the back by B. F. Mudgett, at present Deputy Collector of Customs, and Wilson & Booth, of which firm the accused was a member. The note was payable 30 days after date. Previous to this time, however, the firm of Wilson & Booth dissolved partnership—Wilson going to Chicago. The note was protested, but Mr. Mudgett declined paying it on the ground that it was a forgery. Hence the arrest. On the examination the accused contended that the signature of Mr. Mudgett was genuine, which the latter denied, and Ex-Judge Stewart, the prisoner's counsel, subjected him (Mr. Mudgett) to a severe cross-examination. Mr. Mudgett acknowledged indorsing a note for $100 but not for $1,000. Deputy Collectors Embree and Buchanan were called on, and stated they believed the signature on the note was genuine. Mr. Haight was of a similar opinion. The case is now in the hands of Justice Dowling, who will render a decision on Tuesday.

PROBABLE FATAL AFFRAY AMONG WOMEN.—Jennie Brown and Maria Sickles, alias Gentle Annie, had a dispute in Howard-street at a late hour on Saturday night, which resulted in a fight between the parties. Gentle Annie was so much injured by her antagonist, who kicked her with such violence in the breast and abdomen as to produce severe ruptures. She was taken to the New-York Hospital. She is not expected to recover. Jennie Brown was locked up by the Fourteenth Precinct Police to await the result of the girl's injuries.

SUGGESTION TO FRIENDS OF EMIGRANTS.—The General Agent of the Emigrant Commissioners at Castle Garden, desires to call the attention of those who may have friends among the emigrants under his charge to the necessity of their calling and leaving their places of address, that those they may be seeking may at once be forwarded to their proper destination. If this is done the liability of emigrants to be swindled or led astray by vagabonds, who constantly infest every locality in the vicinity of Castle Garden may be avoided.

KINGS COUNTY CIRCUIT COURT.—The October Calendar will be resumed this morning, when the following causes will be taken up: Nos. 24, 61, 62, 63, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 72, 73, 74, 75, 77, 78, 79, 45, 80, 81.

Blemishes on the face, called Moth, are very annoying, particularly to ladies of light complexion, as the discolored spots on the skin show more strongly on blondes than on brunettes, but they contribute greatly in marring the beauty on either, and anything that will remove Moth Patches without injuring the skin in texture or color, would no doubt be considered a great achievement in medical science. AGAIN NEW TESTIMONY.

READ.

HARLEM, July 20, 1863.

I have been deaf for over TWENTY-FIVE YEARS, and Dr. Von Eisenberg operated on both of my ears without the slightest pain—a thing that I could not believe could be done. I now hear well, and feel as I never felt for the last twenty years. The dexterity and skill with which the operation was performed evince the highest practical ability. I hear perfectly. It is now over a month since the operation, and I continue to feel as well as ever.

CATARRH CURED.

NEW-YORK, Aug. 23, 1863.

I have been suffering for the last three years from a severe Catarrh, with a continual dullness in my head, a tightness across my chest, a weight over my eyes, which were weak, watery and very painful. My nostrils were continually obstructed with a pouring of fluid. I have had frequent sneezing, hoarseness of my voice, generally attended with spitting, often with a fullness of my throat, together with a soreness and a dropping. Dr. Von Eisenberg has cured me of all these disagreeable sufferings. I now feel a new life. The treatment of Dr. Von Eisenberg is as skillful as it is successful; it is impossible to overrate the benefit I have received at his hands. I heartily recommend any one suffering like myself to place themselves under Dr. Von Eisenberg's care, with a certainty of being speedily cured. I give this with gratitude and pleasure. I cannot forbear again saying that my voice, which was hoarse and thick when I applied to Dr. Von Eisenberg, is now clear and good; indeed, I feel abundantly satisfied.

JAMES LITTLE,
No. 345 7th-st., New-York.

NEW-YORK, Sept. 8.

I have been suffering for years past from a severe Catarrh, with a great heaviness over my eyes, with a severe depression, great uneasiness, and pain in my head, great difficulty in breathing, and a continual accumulation in my nostrils, which gave me restless nights for several years. I have consulted several physicians, who pronounced me to be consumptive. What I suffered for so long a time is indescribable. My system was entirely disarranged and greatly debilitated. I not only felt weak, but I had a cloud continually before my eyes, and my ears were so affected that I was threatened with a total loss of hearing. I must say, I think, I was guided by Providence to come to Dr Von Eisenberg, who not only cured me of my Catarrh by removing an astonishing quantity of disagreeable matter from my head, but he restored me to perfect health, a blessing I have not enjoyed for many years. Now I enjoy a good night's rest, and pursue my business with comfort. I must acknowledge that Dr. Von Eisenberg's mild and scientific treatment for Catarrh deserves the highest commendation, as the principle which directs his system of curing Catarrh is such as to render success certain.

JAMES FURLONG, No. 556 2d-av.

No. 134 Allen-st., New-York, Feb. 9, 1863.

I have been completely deaf in one ear, and partially so in the other, for above seventeen years, with a disagreeable discharge from both ears, combined with continual rumbling noise in the head, for which I have been treated by a most eminent practitioner in the City without the slightest relief.

I consulted Dr. Von Eisenberg, but I must candidly say that I had no faith in his success when I did so. It is, therefore, due to Dr. Von Eisenberg to acknowledge that I am entirely cured; also, that he displayed that skill and knowledge which have procured for him such an unrivaled reputation. As I have had an opportunity of comparing his mode of treatment with that of others, I can truly state that it is not only superior, but the principles which direct his mode of restoring the hearing are, in my opinion, certain. JOHN TAYLOR.

NEW-YORK, July 19, 1862.

This certifies that my mother has been for some time afflicted with partial deafness, suffering from pain, and rumbling noises in the head, together with other indications of a total loss of hearing. Dr. Von Eisenberg removed from her ears a great quantity of matter, together with coagulated blood, relieving her instantaneously, and all without pain. It is with grate

NOTICE.
To the Stockholders of the New-York and Harlem Railroad Company:
The increasing business of the Company and anticipated connections with other Railroads render it expedient forthwith to extend the double track from its present terminus at Williams Bridge to Chatham Four Corners, and to complete the road from that place through to Albany.
For the purpose of meeting the necessary outlays attending such constructions, and to defray the expenses incident to the extensions of the City Railroad already authorized, the Board of Directors have resolved that it is expedient to increase the Capital Stock to such amount, not exceeding the limitation of the Charters, as may be sanctioned by the requisite vote of the Stockholders, and to issue the increased stock from time to time as may be required for the purposes of completing such double track and extensions and procuring the necessary additional rolling stock.
The amount of the Capital Stock, as limited by the charter and amendatory acts, and including both the Common and Preferred Stock, is eight millions of dollars, of which two millions one hundred and thirty-nine thousand nine hundred and fifty dollars remained unissued.
The Board of Directors propose that the Capital Stock be increased to its full amount.
A meeting of the Stockholders for the purpose of acting upon such resolution of the Board of Directors and of concurring in the increase of the Capital Stock to the full amount authorized by the Charter and the several acts of the Legislature amendatory thereof, will be held at the Office of the Company, at the corner of 26th-st. and 4th-av., on TUESDAY, the first day of December next, at 12 o'clock noon of that day.
For the purpose of ascertaining the Stockholders who shall be entitled to vote at such meeting, the Books of Transfer will be closed, as required by law, on Saturday, the 7th day of November inst., the day of the first publication of this notice.
The Books will be open on Tuesday, the 10th day of November inst.
Dated, New-York, Nov. 4, 1863.

MEDICAL.

IMPORTANT TO ALL.
LETTER NO. 9.

Messrs. C——n, Ross & Co.:

GENTLEMEN: I cannot but acknowledge the wonderful result from the internal use of your "Tropical Balsam." I have been subject to weakness of the lungs for some time past, and in February last Mr. William Pachear, was attacked some two months ago by a fearful hemorrhage of the lungs and pains in his chest, which for several weeks threatened the life; after having tried in vain almost every other remedy, we resolved to give your Balsam a fair and just trial, which we did with the most happy results. Both Mr. Pachear and myself are now in excellent health, attending to our respective avocations in my Hair Dressing Saloon at the New York Hotel. Believe me, gentlemen, to be ever yours, respectfully,

T. M. SCHAEFFER.

NEW-YORK, Nov. 4, 1863.

LETTER NO. 10.

NEW-YORK, Oct. 26, 1863.

Messrs. Correa Brothers & C——:

GENTLEMEN: The "Tropical Balsam" you prepare, has to my knowledge produced surprising effects. Since I read your circular I have had occasion to recommend it to several persons for immediate relief from wounds, also for ulcers, etc., and it has in all cases produced an instantaneous relief and a rapid cure. I recommended it likewise to a friend of mine who suffered from external hemorrhoids (piles), although you don't say in your circular that it is a good remedy for the cure of this disease, he was very much relieved a few minutes after the application of the Balsam, getting gradually better and better, until he was entirely well in 36 hours.

Wishing the virtues of the "Tropical Balsam" to get known, and its use to become general, I have not hesitated to address you the present, that you may publish it if you like.

Yours respectfully,

J. R. CARRERAS, No. 150 Water-st.

CAPTURE OF A BLOCKADE RUNNER.

Her Arrival at this Port—A Valuable Steamer and Cargo.

The United States transport Fulton, from Charleston Bar, arrived Sunday morning, makes the following report: On the 5th inst., when off Wilmington, at 7 A. M., the look-out at the fore-topmast-head made out a suspicious steamer, painted entirely white and burning soft coal, three points on the port bow; immediately gave chase, which resulted in her altering her course several times; we following her, and after a short time discovered that she was throwing cargo overboard, which confirmed our first suspicions that she was a blockade-runner. There was also in sight a fore-and-aft rigged gunboat, five points on our port bow. She remained in sight for a short time, when we lost sight of her astern. At 10 A. M. made a sidewheel gunboat on the port beam (afterwards ascertained to be the Keystone State.) About this time we fired three shots at the chase from a twenty-pound Parrott gun, falling short of the mark. At 11 A. M. made a sidewheel gunboat, (afterward ascertained to be the Nansemond,) three points on the port bow, also in pursuit. From this time until 1 P. M. continued in pursuit, gradually widening the space between us and the gunboats, and nearing the chase, when, after having fired fifteen shots, some of which passed entirely over the object, and others striking quite near, and after leaving our competitors far astern, the prize hove to. At this time the Keystone State was about ten miles astern, and the Nansemond about five miles. When the prize hove to a prize crew, in charge of our first officer and the Purser, was immediately sent on board, and a hawser from our stern attached to the prize—now ascertained to be the steamer Margaret and Jessie, of Charleston, from Nassau, N. P., for a Confederate port. The gunboat Nansemond arrived alongside the prize about half an hour, and the Keystone State about one hour after our hawser was made fast to the prize. This steamer is a valuable vessel, of about 800 tons burden, and has on board an unusually valuable cargo.

FURTHER PARTICULARS.

The prize steamer Margaret and Jessie is now lying at Pier No. 37 North River. The condition of the vessel cannot easily be described. Her decks are covered with rubbish of all kinds, occasioned by the exceedingly hasty manner her officers and crew discharged the most of her cargo into the sea. Valuable dry goods, watch keys by the gross, matches, blacking, shoes, boots, hats, &c., are piled together promiscuously. The Captain of the prize remarked to a bystander that the Fulton had got nothing by the capture but his vessel. Most the cargo, worth not less than $500,000, he managed to destroy. Between decks there is nothing but a jumbled mass of groceries and dry goods. Large cases have been emptied of their contents. The boxes were used, one of the crew said, to make steam. In the after part of the vessel there is a large quantity of baggage marked Mr. E. LAFITTE, Augusta, Ga., which that gentleman will probably not get quite as soon as anticipated. It is a noticeable fact that most of the smaller articles constituting the cargo, such as matches, blacking, brooms, &c., are of New-York manufacture, and evidently recently exported. It appears when the Fulton first hove in sight the Captain of the prize expected to be captured, and he employed all his time—nearly fourteen hours—in the destruction of his freight. The Captain says he would have taken to his boats and blown up his ship, had it not been for two lady passengers he had on board. The Captain, crew and passengers, including two ladies, are now in Eloridge-street jail awaiting examination. The Margaret and Jessie had made twelve successful voyages between Charleston and Nassau, and was on her thirteenth trip at the time of her capture. The prize vessel was yesterday in charge of Officers PARET and FREEMAN, detailed by Capt. THORNE, of the City Hall Precinct, and to no more vigilant and faithful officers could the responsibility of "guard duty" have been assigned.

A number of French flags were found on board the vessel. An interesting and "affecting" memento was also found in the shape of a card with the following elaborately and handsomely penciled thereon: "Miss M. J. BURIS, belle of Charleston." A line on it indicates that it was "written in Abaco, June 19, 1862." Abaco Island is, probably, where the vessel which contained the unfortunate gentleman, had endeavored to make a harbor, or else had gone on to the reefs. Be all this as it may, the following, given verbatim, as appearing on the back of the card, makes it more specially the "affecting" memento:

"First day alone. Never in all my life have I had such feeling until to-day that are over me now. All all belong to the steamer have left, and myself is compelled to remain behind with no one but the inhabitants, which are all blacks, and only about 20 of those, and nothing to eat but sweet"——

Here the card cuts short the lamentations and prevented the intended conclusion, which would probably have been "pointoes."

The steamships Arago and Fulton, formerly of the Havre and New-York line, and always fortunate and favorite vessels, keep up their well-earned reputation, now that they are employed in the Government service. The Arago a few months since was lucky enough to capture the Emma, a swift little blockade runner, which has made many successful trips to Wilmington, and Capt. GADSDEN was blamed in some quarters and complimented in others for assuming the responsibility of making a prize, his vessel not being regularly commissioned for such purposes. The question as to the right of a Government transport to make capture has, however, since been settled. The case of the Emma was submitted to Judge MARVIN, late of the United States District Court of Key West, who is generally admitted to be the best authority on questions of maritime law from his immense experience in admiralty cases,—prior to the war in matters of salvage and since in cases of capture—and he decided unequivocally that armed Government transports were perfectly justifiable in making seizures of vessels engaging in violating the blockade. The plucky example of Capt. GADSDEN has been followed by Capt. G. M. WALKER, of the Fulton, and both these vessels, while engaged in their ordinary voyages, have distinguished themselves and their commanders, and performed acts which are not less patriotic than profitable.

The Meeting to Aid Suffering Contrabands.

In the progress of the war a very large number of contrabands have been thrown upon our hands whose sufferings will be most appalling in the ensuing Winter, unless liberal aid be extended them. In a camp of four thousand, near Natchez, last Winter, the mortality was over twelve hundred. Major-Gen. GRANT, who has been a witness of their suffering, has delegated Chaplain A. S. FISKE to come East and represent matters as they are, and urge prompt and effective action on the part of the benevolent. This evening there will be a meeting at Cooper Institute to take into consideration the suggestions of Gen. GRANT. The condition of the contrabands is attracting the attention of the Government, and eliciting the sympathy of all cognizant of it. At the meeting this evening much of great interest will be heard, and some plan will undoubtedly be adopted by which the sufferings referred to can be provided against. Meantime clothing can be sent to Mr. LEIGH, No. 1 Mercer-street, and money to Mr. J. B. COLLINS, No. 40 Wall-street, Treasurer, of Freedman's Relief Association.

Important Railroad Decision.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT—SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW-YORK.

Before Judge Nelson.

William Grosvenor vs. The New-Jersey Railroad and Transportation Company—This was a suit brought to recover $10,000 damages. It had been tried twice before in the same Court. On the first trial the jury disagreed. On the second they gave a verdict of $1,000 for the plaintiff, which was set aside by consent. Plaintiff, with a party of friends, left by defendant's cars for Newark, in September, 1860, in the 10 P. M. train. He, with one friend, got out of the car at Centre-street Station, the first on reaching the city, where he was informed that he was to go to the next station, by his friends who remained in the car, and attempted to get on after the train was in motion, in consequence of which he was thrown to the ground, and his ankle injured probably for life. The evidence was conflicting, plaintiff's witnesses swearing that the cars did not stop at all at Centre-street Station, while defendant's witnesses all swore that the cars did stop and that some fifty to seventy-five passengers there got out. The former also swore that only "Newark" Station was called out; the latter that "Centre-street" was announced by the conductor. Plaintiff's counsel maintained—1st. That the Company is chargeable with extreme care. 2d. That the passenger is chargable only with ordinary care; and drew from evidence the conclusion that the Company was liable. The Counsel for defendants insisted—1st, That if plaintiff contributed in any way to the accident, he could not recover, even if the Company was careless. 2d. That the evidence showed that the Company was not careless, but that plaintiff was, in attempting to get on the car after it was in motion. The Judge, in charging the jury, left to the jury the question of fact, whether the plaintiff got on, or attempted to get on, while the car was in motion.

After a few minutes deliberation, the jury rendered a verdict in favor of defendants. Richardson and Spaulding for plaintiff; Joseph C. Jackson, attorney for defendants. Edgar S. Van Winkle of counsel for defendants.

DEAFNESS

NOISES IN THE HEAD,

Diseases of the Eye, Ear & Throat,

CATARRH CURED

BY

DR. VON EISENBERG,

AT HIS CONSULTING ROOMS,

DEAFNESS AND CATARRH.

No. 23 Forsyth-st., NEW-YORK, Oct. 1, 1863.

Dr. Von Eisenberg:

DEAR SIR: Without recapitulating the numerous benefits I have received through your wonderful cure of the deafness I have labored under many years, the blessings I enjoy will convince the most sceptical.

I have tried many aurists, in Europe and America, without success. I was still deaf as a post.

Three years ago I entered your office, underwent one operation, hoping, yet doubting, I should receive any relief, but was agreeably disappointed in finding the genius of your profession.

The innate skill you possess cured my deafness in one almost painless operation.

The joy I experienced was indescribable; 'twas a new life to me.

My hearing is perfect to this day.

I strongly advise all who are suffering under a difficulty of hearing or total deafness, to consult you immediately as I also personally recommend all who apply to me. The numerous calls trespass on my time and patience, yet, remembering my own long, weary affliction, causes me to pity them.

This is not written to advertise your well-known, unrivaled reputation—that would be puerile; but as a measure of precaution to induce all to call on you at once without troubling me; yet I do not refuse to see any one who comes to me. This is the only way I can show my gratitude.

I also call the attention of those who are suffering from Catarrh, which disease I have labored under one year or more.

I experienced difficulty in breathing, langour, heaviness over the eyes, a sense of tightness on the brain, and copious expectorations of a hard and viscid nature. Accompanying this is a "polypus," quite filling the right nostril. On the 26th ult. you operated on both, killing the polypus, which is gradually passing away, and giving me great relief from the Catarrh. One more operation will effectually cure.

This testimonial brings with it my unalloyed and grateful thanks, with but a poor delineation of your wondrous skill as an Aurist.

I am, Sir, yours very gratefully,

EDWARD TEMPLE HARRISON.

ERUPTIONS ON THE FACE,

PALLID COUNTENANCE.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which this Medicine invariably removes, soon follows Fatuity, Epileptic Fits, in one of which the patient may expire. Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "direful diseases," "INSANITY and CONSUMPTION?" Many are aware of the cause of their suffering.

The records of the Disease Asylums, and the Melancholy Deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of the assertion. The constitution once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to Strengthen and Invigorate the System, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU INVARIABLY DOES.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU

For purifying the blood, removing all chronic constitutional diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, and the only reliable and effectual known remedy for the cure of Scrofula, Scald Head, Salt Rheum, Pains and Swellings of the Bones, Ulcerations of the Throat and Legs, Blotches, Pimples on the Face, Tetter, Erysipelas, and all scaly eruptions of the skin.

AND BEAUTIFYING THE COMPLEXION.

NOT A FEW

Of the worst disorders that afflict mankind arise from the corruption that accumulates in the blood. Of all the discoveries that have been made to purge it out, none can equal in effect HELMBOLD'S COMPOUND EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA. It cleanses and renovates the blood, instils the vigor of health into the system, and purges out the humors which make disease. It stimulates the healthy functions of the body, and expels the disorders that grow and rankle in the blood. Such a remedy, that could be relied on, has long been sought for, and now, for the first time, the public have one on which they can depend. Our space here does not admit of certificates to show its effects, but the trial of a single bottle will show to the sick that it has virtues surpassing anything they have ever taken.

Two tablespoonfuls of the Extract of Sarsaparilla added to a pint of water, is equal to the Lisbon Diet Drink, and one bottle is fully equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the Decoction as usually made.

THESE EXTRACTS HAVE BEEN ADMITTED TO USE IN THE UNITED STATES ARMY, and are also in very general use in all the STATE HOSPITALS and PUBLIC SANITARY INSTITUTIONS throughout the land, as well as in private practice, and are considered as invaluable remedies.

Induced by the extensive sale and universal popularity of Hoofland's German Bitters, (purely vegetable,) hosts of ignorant Quacks and unscrupulous adventurers, have opened upon suffering humanity the flood-gates of Nostrums in the shape of poor whisky, vilely compounded with injurious drugs, and christened Tonics, Stomachics and Bitters.

Beware of the innumerable array of Alcoholic preparations in plethoric bottles and big-bellied kegs, under the modest appellation of Bitters, which instead of curing only aggravate disease, and leave the disappointed sufferer in despair.

Do you want something to strengthen you?
Do you want a good appetite?
Do you want to build up your constitution?
Do you want to feel well?
Do you want to get rid of nervousness?
Do you want energy?
Do you want to sleep well?
Do you want a brisk and vigorous feeling?

If you do, use HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

From Rev. J. Newton Brown, D. D., Editor of the Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge.

Although not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in general, through distrust of their ingredients and effects, I yet know of no sufficient reason why a man may not testify to the benefits he believes himself to have received from any simple preparation, in the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of others.

I do this more readily in regard to Hoofland's German Bitters, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, of this City, because I was prejudiced against them for many years, under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture. I am indebted to my friend Robert Shoemaker, Esq., for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and for encouragement to try them, when suffering from great and long continued debility. The use of three bottles of these Bitters, at the beginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief, and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before, and had almost despaired of regaining. I therefore thank God and my friend for directing me to the use of them. J. NEWTON BROWN.

PARTICULAR NOTICE.

There are many preparations sold under the name of Bitters, put up in quart bottles, compounded of the cheapest whisky or common rum, costing from 20 to 40 cents per gallon, the taste disguised by Anise or Coriander Seed.

This class of Bitters has caused, and will continue to cause, as long as they can be sold, hundreds to die the death of the drunkard. By their use, the system is kept continually under the influence of alcoholic stimulants of the worst kind, the desire for Liquor is created and kept up, and the result is all the horrors attendant upon a drunkard's life and death.

For those who desire and will have a Liquor Bitters we publish the following receipt. Get one bottle Hoofland's German Bitters and mix with three quarts of good brandy or whisky, and the result will be a preparation that will far excel in medicinal virtues and true excellence any of the numerous Liquor Bitters in the market and will cost much less. You will have all the virtues of HOOFLAND'S BITTERS in connection with a good article of Liquor, at a much less price than these inferior preparations will cost you.

ATTENTION, SOLDIERS!

AND FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS.

We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that "Hoofland's German Bitters" will cure nine-tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to camp life. In the lists published almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick, it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility. Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed. We have no hesitation in stating, that if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost.

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well-authenticated cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life, to use his own language, "has been saved by the Bitters."

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 23, 1863.

MESSRS. JONES & EVANS: Well, gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life.
